PRIMITIVE AND UNIVERSAL LAWS OF THE FORMATION AND DEVELOPMENT OF LANGUAGE;

A Rational and Inductive System founded on the Natural Basis of Onomatopoeias. By C. A. COUNT DE GODES-LIANCOURT and FREDERIC PINCOTT. In 8vo.

This volume consists of the Introduction and Preface to a Dictionary of the Onomatopoeias upon which Universal Language has been erected. The Introductory matter sets forth the laws which have operated the manifold modifications of primitive bases; and have also established the syntactical arrangement and grammatical terminology of modern languages. The Preface, after an historical survey of the views of former writers on the question, describes what onomatopoeias really are, and in doing so lays the foundation for a new and Darwinian theory of language. The theory here enounced differs essentially from that of all former writers, and places language on a natural, and therefore rational, basis; incidentally showing the connection between Language and Philosophy, and the natural, and, indeed, inevitable, evolution of Civilization and Mental Development. The comprehensive system of Analysis which has led up to these results is described and fully illustrated; and, at the end of the book, further examples are adduced to show the universal application of the authors' method of treatment.

Indian Criminal-Law and Procedure (including the Procedure in the High Courts, and that in the Courts not established by Royal Charter); with Forms of Charges, and notes on Evidence, illustrated by a large number of English cases and cases decided by the High Courts in India: and an Appendix of selected Acts passed by the Legislative Council relating to Criminal Matters. By M. H. STABLING, Esq., LL.B., of the Inner Temple, Barrister-at-Law. Second edition, comprising the Criminal Procedure Amendment Act of 1869. Royal 8vo. 1870. £1 10s.

In this work the sections of the Penal Code have been arranged in groups, and to each group has been appended a short paragraph containing information collected from the schedule to the Criminal Procedure Code, as amended by the subsequent Acts, respecting the Courts competent to try offenders, the mode of arrest, and the power to take bail. Forms of charges, and the evidence necessary to support them, will also be found in the proper places. The sections of both Codes, relating to punishments, have been collected together, so that the whole law on that subject will be found arranged consecutively in one chapter. The book on Procedure contains the Criminal Procedure Code and the High Court Procedure Acts, as well as portions of English statutes in force in India, illustrated and elucidated by notes containing the decisions of the High Courts on those sections which have been the subject of judicial notice. This work is thus a complete handbook of law and procedure, which is not the case with any of the works published in either of the Presidencies.

Textile Manufactures and Costumes of the People of India,
As originally prepared under the Authority of the Secretary of State for India in Council. By J. FORBES WATSON, M.A., M.D., F.R.A.S., Reporter on the Products of India. Folio, half-morocco. With numerous Coloured Photographs. £3 5s.

This work—by affording a key to the Fashions of the People, and to the Cotton, Silk, and Wool Textiles in actual use in India—is of special interest to Manufacturers, Merchants, and Agents; as also to the Student and lover of ornamental art.

"We congratulate Dr. Forbes Watson on having produced so useful and so practical a work, and on having diffused knowledge upon all material points connected with the clothing of the people of India, which heretofore had been unattainable. His book is written in a clear and thoroughly intelligible style throughout; it is handsomely got up, and embellished by numerous coloured photographs, from which the various styles of costume and portion of clothing, male and female, will be more readily understood than from mere description. The colours, too, of the various fabrics are given from the articles themselves, and we would in particular invite attention to the plates at page 118, all or most being figures of respectable Mohammedans in Upper India in rich dresses, as conveying excellent impressions of colour and effect in native Indian costume."—Times.
